["Amazing Grace" plays.] [Deborah Bell Paseur]: "My mom always sang to me when I was young."

[Announcer]: Jeanne Bell's daughter is Judge Deborah Bell Paseur. [Deborah Bell Paseur]: "Both of my parents were just amazing."

[Jeanne Bell]: "She made me proud." [Announcer]: Deborah Bell was raised in Alabama when times were changing fast.

But before she wore a robe, she carried a gun and wore a badge. [Jeanne Bell]: "I worried about Deborah back then."

[Announcer]: She was the first woman judge in Lauderdale County.

And for 27 years, Deborah Bell put thousands of criminals in jail while starting a drug court and working with children to prevent crime.

[Jeanne Bell]: "She's not only a mother. She's a foster mother, too." [Announcer]: Now, Deborah Bell Paseur is running for Supreme Court with the support of police and sheriffs. She's tough, smart. Deborah Bell Paseur: amazing strength and the grace to serve.
